My Dear Sangha,

When it comes to Awakening and Freedom and their transformative power in the world our mission here at FOTS is very simple:
to Awaken individual Consciousness into the Oneness of Being and to make the teaching easily accessible and available to everyone.

In today's changing and challenging world this mission has grown to be even more important and more urgent than ever. But to ensure that we can fulfill our mission we need your help.

Gratefully you have been a steady supporter of FOTS for many years now and together we strongly desire to continue this much needed work.

My health remains restrictive and challenging, although in a small but significant way continues to improve. Therefore, I still greatly need your help to advance the broadening of our Sangha's reach. With your help, we hope to respond to a greater global interest for this teaching through, in part, with at home study programs, more programs with some pre-recorded video, and with a book.

I have been teaching this past year more about the capacity of the nervous system and about our ability to Be Here in the process that leads to Awakening and Freedom. This is one of the areas that I would like to continue to focus on more heading into 2017.

We continue to offer free open teleconference calls, a variety of programs, mail and email correspondence with students, private sessions and scholarships.

Where we need your help:

“My name is Mike Lippitt. I have had the honor of calling Neelam my spiritual teacher for at least fifteen years. My experience with her Grace and Presence has been a constant support during good and bad times. Having a personal relationship with an enlightened soul as Neelam is an invaluable gift and resource to all of us seeking Truth and Being. I humbly urge your financial donation to support her invaluable work.”

With Love,

Neelam

-if you are itemizing your tax deductions you may consider an end of year gift to us

This would create a long term stability for FOTS.

*“Please consider becoming a Monthly Donor. Monthly giving is an easy, efficient and tax-deductible way to make a difference all year long. Plus, monthly gifts provide a consistent, reliable income stream that allows us to grow and sustain Neelam's teaching. It also helps us to provide you with the overall support that you receive when you participate in Neelam's programs.
Love,
